WILLIAM AND MARY QUINT LOSES TO U. S. S. UTAH AND TO NORFOLK Y. M. C. A.

Varsity Puts up Good Fight in Both Games, but is Unable to Stop Strong Opponents

The basketball team of the U. S. S. Utah defeated the William and Mary quint in the gymnasium last Tuesday, 45-30. There was a large crowd in attendance as the visitors were known to be strong, and a former William and Mary man and Naval Academy star was playing center for the battleship team.

The game was one of the fastest and most spirited seen on the local court, one that offered the spectators much excitement. Henrickson played especially well for the sailors during the first half and scored eight goals, but during the last period was overpowered by the excellent defensive work of Zehmer. Bertschey and Wyatt were the varsity stars, the former executing several difficult shots, while the latter was all over the floor, guarding his man well and taking a prominent part in the offence.

At one time William and Mary forged to the front and the score was 14-13, but Utah again took the lead and held it to the end. When the first half ended the score was 29-23, but William and Mary was unable to cage the ball with any degree of consistency during the last period, and under the guarding of Zehmer, Henrickson could not shoot a basket, so the game ended with the score 45-30.

Line up and summary:

EX-STATE SENATOR M. J. FULTON MAKES LEE CELEBRATION ADDRESS

Speaker Draws Great Moral and Truth From the Simple Things of Lee's Life

Last night in the presence of a small but enthusiastic audience, the Hon. M. J. Fulton, of Richmond delivered the annual Lee celebration address in the College Chapel. After a few choice words of welcome, Dr. L. G. Tyler introduced the speaker. Mr. Fulton first spoke in glowing terms of the history of William and Mary, telling the students of the privilege of attending an institution with such a past, and calling attention to their duty and responsibility to their Alma Mater.

The speaker then launched into the general subject, Robert E. Lee, with Duty as a theme. He gave an account of the simple things of the great soldier's life, from which he drew the truth that "Lee always did his duty as he saw it, and he sought to see it in conscience, reason, and Godly fear." Next Mr. Fulton told of the effect of the war on Virginia and showed how the people performed their duty toward the state under the inspiration of the noble example set by the modest hero. In concluding the Senator mentioned the present inequalities in wealth and opportunity and invoked the students to a realization of their duty to the country in the solution of the problem of the twentieth century—the making of just laws and the more equitable distribution of wealth.

LITERARY SOCIETY ELECTION

The Literary societies elected officers for the second term Saturday night. The Phoenix officers are as follows:

President, W. F. Cooke; Vice-President, W. R. Shands; Recording Secretary, J. P. Ingle; Parliamentary Critic, A. D. Ownby; Literary Critic, W. M. Grimsley; Sergeant-at-arms, J. M. Bishop; Chaplain, C. A. Moses; Executive committee: Z. T. Kyle, H. H. Simms, W. C. West.

The Philomathean Society chose the following named men as officers:

President, W. E. Somers; Vice-President, H. L. Mitchell; Recording Secretary, W. R. Robertson; Parliamentary Critic, W. D. Harris; Sergeant-at-arms, B. H. Seekford; Chaplain, I. Q. Wood; Executive committee: Paul Deering, M. M. Smith.

MAURY HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS ACADEMY IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Ellis Stars for Local Team, while Captain Baxter Shows Best Form for High School

In a rough and tumble fight, the hustling quint which represents Maury High School of Norfolk defeated the Academy team in the college gymnasium Saturday night by a score of 35 to 16.

While the score rolled up by the victorious team over their opponents was very large, they had no walk-over. And not until the last half could it be seen that the Academy would lose. The first half ended 15-10 in favor of Norfolk.

The game was very interesting from beginning to end, some of the men on both sides making spectacular plays. "Monk" Ellis for the locals showed his superiority over his team mates throughout the game, while Baker was in very good form. Captain Baxter played well for Maury High and was by far the best man on the floor.

Lineup and summary:

W. M. A.	Position	M. H. S.
Spencer.....	left forward	Baxter
Ellis.....	right forward	Tumbleson
Somers.....	center	Johnson
Wilson.....	right guard	Willis

Substitutions: W. M. A.—Adams for Spencer. M. H. S.—Deaton for Tumbleson, Pate for Deaton. Goals from field—Ellis 5, Baker 2, Baxter 8, Johnson 4, Ferebee 2, Willis 1. Goals from foul—Spencer 2, Johnson 3, Baxter 2. Time of periods—15 and 20 minutes. Referee—V. Geddy.

IT'S A LONG WAY TO FEBRUARY

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year,
The "movies" move to empty seats;

Each girl a lonesome dear.

The students no longer smiling:
They have a careworn look.
Beneath the arm of every one
Is found a dog-eared book.

Examination days have come,
The saddest one can find,
So it's get to work, you rummy,
And grind, you bonehead, GRIND!

W. S. Shackelford was in Richmond Friday and Saturday on business for the Colonial Echo.

BEHOLD THE MAN, SAYS VIRGINIA ON ROBERT E. LEE'S BIRTHDAY

Human Qualities of the Great Southern Soldier Overshadow his Military Tactics

Today, while on the battle-field of Europe, military strategists are studying to match the incomparable movements of Lee's campaigns, and while a well-nigh universal ode of praise is accorded the Great Confederate Chief from the four corners of the world, Virginia and the South love to forget the sword and the horrors of war, and to commemorate with increasing devotion the man, "Whose glory was a gentle heart. And plume his princeliness of soul."

Not at all unmindful of Robt. E. Lee's place as one of the foremost captains of the world's history, his mother state remembers with more tenderness his refusal to draw sword against his own people, his casting away of his one chance to become a triumphant figure in history when he held his allegiance to his state above the commandership of the Northern Armies, and his four years of superhuman endeavor to protect Virginia from invasion. Not a school child but knows and should remember today the story of how the great warrior dismounted from Traveller and went under heavy fire to rescue and restore to its nest a little birdling; not a veteran but knows and should remember how, in the midst of poverty after the war, this great hearted gentleman emptied his purse to a needy enemy.

His rebuke to Early for the burning of Chambersburg is a significant commentary upon his method of warfare; his unselfish shouldering of all blame for defeat at Gettysburg is one of the biggest things in history; and the dignity with which he laid down his arms at Appomattox and afterwards exemplified to a stricken people the heroism of peace, has no likeness in all the records of ages.

And so the keynote of the day should be softened of all harshness, and strong with the passions of a people for peace and a renewed devotion to a common country.

MR. BRIDGES IMPROVING

Mr. H. L. Bridges, Registrar of the College, who was operated upon several days ago in the Protestant Hospital at Norfolk, is doing very well.

USELESS CONFUSION

The Academy has been a separate institution for three years now, with its own work and its own Faculty. But how many people, even in our immediate vicinity, know this? Very few indeed. If a young man attends lectures in Williamsburg, even though he be an "A" Academy student, as far as the general public knows, he is a William and Mary College man. Now, the Academy does a valuable and necessary work, probably as important in its way as that of the College, but the two institutions should not be confused. The Academy is a college preparatory school and nothing more, while William and Mary itself is a standard fourteen Carnegie unit college, awarding high grade collegiate degrees; and any confusion of the two institutions is as injurious to one as to the other.

We do not advocate the abolition of the Academy, as some have suggested. It gives the one and two year high school graduates a chance to secure the required college entrance units, and hence supplies an actual want; besides, it is a valuable "feeder" to the college. There is, however, a very simple means by which a large part of this confusion may be eliminated—publicity.

We realize that the College itself is not sufficiently advertised, but we believe that one of the bulletins, as now issued, could with much advantage be given over wholly to the interests of the Academy, without in any way injuring the College. Four bulletins are now issued, one in June, one in late summer, the third at Christmas, and the fourth, later in the session. This fourth bulletin usually contains nothing but a few speeches, good enough in themselves, but as we see it of no special value to the College as an advertising medium. And it is this bulletin that we think should be devoted exclusively to the Academy, giving its purposes, facilities, etc., as well as a complete outline of its courses of study.

Such a catalogue would give the Academy a little much-needed advertising, and would more definitely mark it as a separate institution. Let us have a College and an Academy; let us give each its due; but let us not confuse the two institutions, and thus work harm upon both.

A RESPIRE, O LADY!

At the last few basketball games in the Gymnasium, the devotees of Lady Nicotine have courted that fair enchantress rather impudently in the presence of some three hundred fellow creatures, both male and female. Now, we too worship at the shrine of this charmer and naturally have a fellow feeling for all the enslaved. But our better judgment tells us that it were better to burn our incense to the divine Lady at a more fitting place.

Let's quit smoking in the Gym. The place is too small to accommodate the crowds at best, and besides, the ladies at the games don't enjoy our offerings to the "other love."

With this issue, on account of mid-year examinations, the Hat will suspend publication for several weeks.

ENTERTAINMENTS

Town, College and High School talent will present two plays at Cameron Hall during January, both of which promise to be very interesting.

The first is a three act comedy and is scheduled for Wednesday evening the 20th. The play is entitled "Bar Haven." The talent is made up of teachers in the High School, and the Academy, students of the College and some young ladies in town. Those who have seen Miss Ella Pitman and Miss Foster will hardly miss the opportunity of seeing them again.

On January 30th the senior class of the city High School will give an entertainment at Cameron Hall. The class will be assisted by talent from the High School faculty and the College students. Miss Pearl Parsley has the class in training and will no doubt have an interesting performance.

VALUABLE COURSES

FOR the benefit of those young men of the northern hemisphere who contemplate entering William and Mary and also of those already on the campus who have not yet been exposed to these subjects, the following brief description of some of the college courses is issued by the Prevarication Committee:

Political Science 1—A detailed history of the Pamunkey Indians and a setting forth of the greatness of Virginia and the smallness of all other parts of the United States, all of which is interpolated by incidental remarks on charters and constitutions. First term, 2 credits.

Botany 4—The propagation and execution of a number of invisible bugs which are caught on the end of a platinum needle, colored with diamond dyes, placed between two glass plates, and searched for in vain and in blasphemy (under the breath). First term, 4 credits.

Zoology 3—A course in the theft of everything essential to the prosecution of Botany 4, which is conducted in the same laboratory. Pork and fricasee embryos are occasionally sliced up and served with paraffin glass plates. First term, 3 credits.

Chemistry 1-2—A repetition of the words of Newell's Revised Chemistry to all those who find no opportunity to jump out of the windows. In the $250,000 laboratory a score or two reagents are poured into various kinds of vessels and the results written down in two note books. Both terms, 10 credits.

Psychology 1-2—The use of a large number of meaningless words applied to intelligence and the brain, things usually apart from those taking the course. Both terms, 6 credits.

History 1—An account of the deeds and misdeeds of ancient Greece and Rome from the cradle to the grave of the same. Only three A's allowed to a class of forty. First term, 3 credits.

Physics 1-2-3-4—The subject matter is the same for each of these courses, tho incidentals differ. Each is a practice in the annunciation of "Pardon me, gentlemen, for grogging enthusiastic."

Mr. W. M. Bunts, representative for the South of the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association, visited the college and town last week, speaking at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and addressing the Young People Union in the evening. Mr. Bunts reminded the people of the local, state, inter-state, and national oratorical contests and the essay contests to be held in the spring on Prohibition topics. Valuable prizes are offered in each contest. The State and Inter-state oratorical prizes are, respectively, $40.00 and $75.00. The National oratorical and essay prizes are each $100.00. Ten colleges of this State are eligible to have representatives in the oratorical contests. Any college student (undergraduate) is eligible to compete in the essay contest. Every William and Mary man with ability in these lines should enter one of these contests.

Mr. Bunts also met a number of students and a class for the study of some phase of the liquor problem was formed. The following officers were elected: J. P. Ingle, president;
R. E. Hurst, vice-president; B. M.
Wood, secretary; F. P. Early, treasurer; F. W. Cooke, reporter. Students and professors will be welcomed as members of the class, and all are urged to consider the importance of this, the nation's greatest social problem, and to help in its solution.
Those interested in the contests or class can secure literature from the president, secretary, or treasurer.

ACADEMY TO EXTEND WORK

At a recent meeting of the Academy Faculty a committee was appointed to look into the matter of advertising the Academy. Since the Academy work is entirely separate from that of the College and an entirely different corps of teachers have charge of it, the Faculty feels that the fact should be known by the general public.

In some parts of the state people have the idea that the Academy and College are the same. This fact has a tendency to injure both institutions. The College does strictly college work and no one without the required number of units is admitted to any part of its work, while the Academy is intended to supplement the work of one and two year high schools, thereby making a bridge for those who haven't good high school facilities at home to pass from the country school into the college with the fourteen units required.

During the coming year the Academy expects to broaden out the work of the higher grades in order to allow boys coming in to have a better choice of subjects.
